Message from Father Tom:

Pete was unloved at home. He was put upon by the police. His boss was being unfair. He had no friends to turn to. Truly this man had suffered in his life in ways I could not understand. Time after time, his outlet was to run away to someplace less unpleasant, or to numb the pain with drugs. Unlike many others in treatment, Pete really didn't seem all that physiologically dependent on the drugs. After all, he had a number of times in life where he was "sober" for months and even years. However, like so many others, his life was characterized by lies to himself and others; running away from painful circumstances instead of trying to deal with them.

Personally, I don't know what I would've done in the same circumstance: I am a weak man, like any other. But I do know, from observing human nature, that people never recover from the pain and sorrow of life until they learn to face it...to deal with it.

At a certain point in Jesus' public ministry, it says that he turned decisively toward Jerusalem (toward the place of his crucifixion), setting his face like flint. It was terribly important for Him that He face the reality of his pain and suffering head on. For this destiny was the will of the Father. Jesus didn't blame the Pharisees for what would happen to Him; He didn't run away, He didn't try to distract Himself from the mission by drinking, eating, or playing games. Instead He went to prayer. He simply said, "Lord if it is possible, let this cup pass; but not my will, but yours be done." Then He went to His death.

Let us be on guard for any behavior that avoids responsibility, and even that avoids difficult things because they are difficult. Instead, let us go to prayer as Christ did--He took His pain and anguish to His heavenly Father. If there is one thing that characterizes the true Saint, the true disciple of Christ, it is their capacity to allow God into the filth and ugliness of life, and to receive love even there.

Prayer to Our Lady of Lourdes:

Oh ever immaculate Virgin, Mother of Mercy, Health of the Sick, Refuge of Sinners, Comfortress of the Afflicted, you know my wants, my troubles, my sufferings. Look upon me with mercy. When you appeared in the grotto of Lourdes, you made it a privileged sanctuary where you dispense your favors, and where many sufferers have obtained the cure of their infirmities, both spiritual and corporal. I come, therefore, with unbounded confidence to implore your maternal intercession. My loving Mother, obtain my request. I will try to imitate your virtues so that I may one day share your company and bless you in eternity. Amen.

~Pope Benedict XVI

From the Litany of Humility

O Jesus! Meek and humble of heart,
Hear me.
From the desire of being esteemed,
deliver me, Jesus.
From the desire of being loved ...
From the desire of being extolled ...
From the desire of being honored ...
From the desire of being praised ...
From the desire of being preferred to others ...
From the desire of being consulted ...
From the desire of being approved ...
From the fear of being humiliated ...
From the fear of being despised ...
From the fear of suffering rebukes ...
From the fear of being calumniated ...
From the fear of being forgotten ...
From the fear of being ridiculed ...
From the fear of being wronged ...
From the fear of being suspected ...
That others may be loved more than I,
Jesus, grant me the grace to desire it.

Stewardship Snippets: "Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, 'Whom shall I send? Who will go for us?' 'Here I am,' I said, 'send me!'" (Isaiah 6:8) Every day, in little ways and in big ways, God asks, "Whom shall I send?" Whether it is someone to take on a new ministry, to give a friendly smile to a stranger or say a word of encouragement to a friend, God constantly provides opportunities to help someone in need. The next time you hear God calling, have the courage to walk through the door and say "Here I am, Lord."
